

FUNKD — Press Kit

Overview

FUNKD is a Sydney-based music organisation grounded in big band and jazz, delivering bespoke programmes across jazz, classical, and musical theatre. Each project is shaped around a specific brief, with music developed to suit the room, the people, and the occasion.

Approach

FUNKD does not work from fixed setlists or standard packages. Projects are shaped from an idea, with preparation and scale determining the structure of the work. Music may be fully planned in advance, written specifically for the occasion, or shaped in response to the event as it unfolds. The aim is always coherence, clarity, and ease.

What We Deliver

FUNKD presents a wide range of ensemble formats, from soloists and chamber groups through to full big bands, musical theatre orchestras, and classical orchestras. Across all formats, the standard remains consistent.

- Musicianship: Young professional musicians trained at the Sydney Conservatorium of Music, supported by careful personnel selection for each brief.
- Production: Clear communication, calm logistical management, and detailed musical planning to ensure performances feel effortless in the room.

Direction

FUNKD is directed by Musical Director Alex Putra. Projects are overseen through musical direction, arranging, and production oversight, with attention given to pacing, transitions, and the relationship between music and setting.

Values

Restraint over noise. Lineage over novelty. Preparation over improvising logistics. Discretion in private rooms.

Engagements

FUNKD performs across Sydney and undertakes national and international engagements. Projects have included formal dinners, private celebrations, galas, university events, cabaret, charity events, corporate functions, and weddings.
